

The Story of Hamilton Corrals

Once upon a time, there was a rumour that orienteering near Kamloops was so fantastic that participants showed up in herds...

Do we have group registration available?

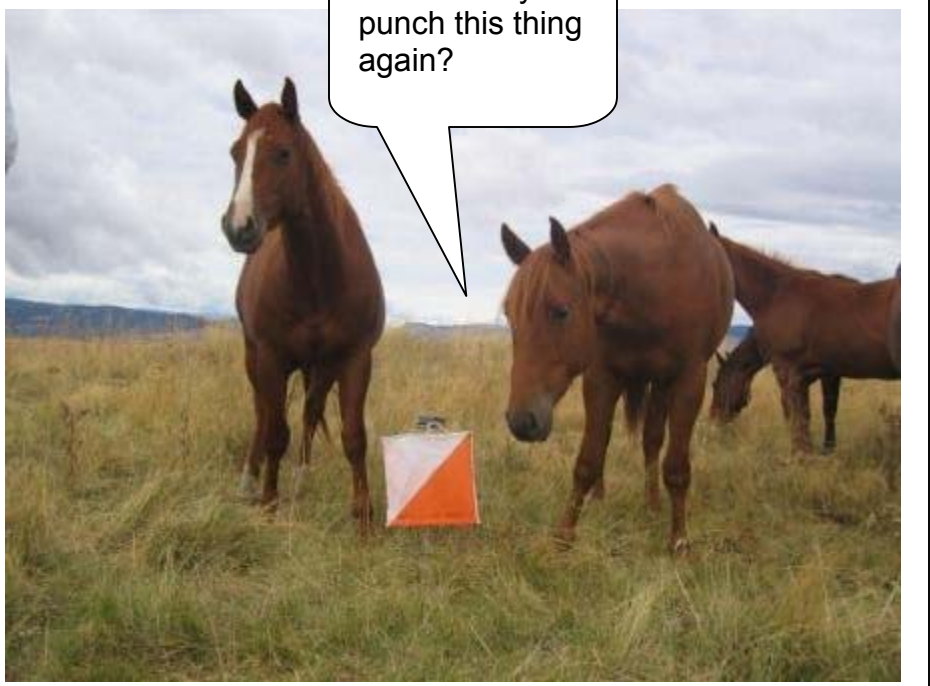

Meanwhile at the registration table...

We should have insisted on renting them compasses.

They're missing it!

Back off, I was here first.

So how do you punch this thing again?

Heck, if we just eat it, then no one else can punch it – we'll win for sure!

Yeah, do that.

That looks yummy...

And that was the last time horses were allowed on a course... although they made control picking easy at the end of the event.

The End

Photos by the Eastwood's, Scott Foubister and Scott Lemon.
Arrangement by Marie-Cat Bruno